Power engineers to earn RUB 9 billion from modernizing thermal generation this year

As Kommersant found out, at the end of this year, payments to industry for the energy capacity of modernized thermal power plants will increase threefold, reaching RUB 9 billion. Payments grow as new facilities are launched: in 2022, power engineers commissioned 2.3 GW of upgraded stations, and in 2023 - another 2.2 GW. So far, payment for their capacity takes up only 1% of the revenue of all power plants for the supply of power, but it will grow every year.
