

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY NEWS

A full range of work in the field of renewable energy is already being carried out in the Russian Federation

In Russia, a full range of work in the field of renewable energy is already being carried out today - from the construction of new facilities based on renewable energy sources (RES) to the production of solar modules with a higher efficiency. Alexey Kulapin, General Director of the Federal State Budgetary Institution Russian Energy Agency (REA) of the Russian Ministry of Energy, focused on this on 15 June 2023 during his speech at the St. Petersburg International Economic Forum (SPIEF). He clarified that next year in the Russian Federation it is also planned to launch its own production of blades for wind turbines.
