Rosseti Centre - Voronezhenergo reminds of electrical safety rules

Specialists of the branch of Rosseti Centre - Voronezhenergo urge residents of the region to strictly observe safety measures when staying near electrical installations. In particular, they should pay attention to all warning and restriction signs.

With the start of school holidays, the risk of electrical injuries among children and adolescents increases. During this period, children spend a lot of time outside without adult supervision. We strongly recommend that parents take care of the safety of their children - take the time to tell them about the mortal danger that electric current poses if safety rules are violated.
