Miners may be denied grid connection due to energy shortages

Deputy Head of the Ministry of Energy of the Russian Federation Pavel Snikkars said that as part of solving the problem of energy shortage in the country, various measures can be taken, up to a complete refusal of grid connections for miners. The Ministry of Energy is exploring various options for grid connection for miners in energy-deficient regions of the country, including a possible complete refusal to connect to the energy grid while the problem with the deficit is resolved, Pavel Snikkars said in an interview with the Kommersant newspaper.
