

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY NEWS

An upgraded model of Russian-made meters is included in the Electricity Commercial Metering Automated System integrator software

EKF SKAT meters have been improved and now fully comply with RF Government Resolution No. 890. This makes it possible to use EKF meters in commercial electricity metering.

Among the upgrades, the new meter has a built-in programmable load control relay with the capability to block (on/off/software control). Due to the initiative data transfer, the meter itself can report interference with its correct operation, opening its housing or terminal cover.
