Kurskenergo's power engineers restore power supply interrupted by bad weather to consumers in the Kursk region

On the evening of 18 September 2022, as a result of the passage of a thunderstorm front through the territory of the Kursk region, technological disturbances occurred in the grids. Currently, most of the consumers are powered by backup lines. Kurskenergo's specialists are making every effort to restore electricity supply to the residents of the region as quickly as possible.
