Rosseti implemented a pilot project to replace SAP ERP with Russian software in terms of automating human resource management processes

Rosseti has begun commercial operation of the software Digital Energy: HR Management, developed as part of import substitution by Rosseti Digital and certified by 1C, the press service of the electric grid holding company reports.

The pilot project was implemented by Rosseti Tyumen. In the future, the new software will be used throughout the Rosseti Group, the report notes.

"The project team in a short time - in just 10 months - replaced the outdated foreign SAP ERP product with domestic software," the report notes.
