Shulginov: "Indexation of the FGC tariff is a one-time measure"

The additional indexation of the tariff for the transmission of electricity through the main power grid by 6.3%, effective from 1 May, will be a one-time measure, Nikolai Shulginov, Head of the Russian Ministry of Energy, told reporters on the sidelines of the Caucasian Investment Exhibition.

"This is a one-time measure that applies only to the FGC tariff, it does not affect the population. Otherwise, tariff changes will take place within the established time frame in accordance with the parameters laid down in the socio-economic development forecasts," the minister answered the question about the increase in tariffs for transmission grids.
